Hello,

My name is Sandy Altman and greetings from sunny San Diego! My son James is really into cars and basically anything that has a motor! So much so that he has chosen to do a history report on the history of the automobile. We have been doing quite a bit of research about the roots of the American auto industry, and we thought your page <http://www.saspeedway.info/links/links.htm> was awesome! We really enjoyed learning more about classic and vintage cars, the history behind them, and of course checking out your pictures!

James really enjoyed doing research, and used to always be putting together projects long before he was assigned them in school. So he really has been enjoying this one in particular, as it is a topic he absolutely loves! Part of the project is going to be about Hot Rods! James found this cool Hot Rod Resource Guide over the weekend while we were doing some research, https://www.partsgeek.com/mparts/hot\_rod\_resource\_guide.html. I thought it was a cool article and I know James really enjoyed it. I think it's great that he is taking something that he loves learning about and translating that into an educational pursuit! I was hoping you could add the article to your page, I would love to show him! I know he would be thrilled to be able to contribute some cool car material in return for the help your page has been.

Thanks again for the awesome page, it was really fun to visit, and a big help with James' project! If you're able to add the Hot Rod article to your page, please let me know, I'd love to show him! Wishing you a wonderful holiday season, and hope to speak again soon!

Best Wishes,

Sandy Altman
